An Exhibition of Illustrated Music Manuscripts from the Workshop of Petrus Alamire

Join us and enter the opulent world of the 16th century through the eyes of Petrus Alamire – musical scribe, composer, singer and producer of some of the most decorated illustrated choirbooks in history. Collected together by the Alamire Foundation, the music manuscripts are represented in high quality, scaled images.

Meet rulers, composers and musicians, and experience the arts and the worldview of the time brought to life through these extraordinary beautiful images.

Visitors are also invited into the media-installation 'Speculum Musurgica' by the Belgian contemporary artist Rudi Knoops to hear the music so artfully illustrated. Roll back 500 years and enter the sound world of Alamire as you get "up-close and personal" with the musicians at work.

This exhibition was first mounted in Antwerp Cathedral by the Alamire Foundation, International Centre for the Study of Music in the Low Countries and AMUZ, Flanders Festival-Antwerp (Belgium), and will travel internationally - starting in 2017 at Beverley Minster.

Beverley Minster; north and south transepts
Weekdays 9.00 - 17.00, Sundays 12 noon - 17.00

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Festival Exhibition: Discovery Pack for Youngsters

From 26 May - 16 July, we are inviting younger visitors (aged 5 - 11) to join us in Beverley Minster and to pick up a discovery pack entitled 'Curiouiser and Curiouiser' to learn about Petrus Alamire's double life as a spy for Henry VIII. Activities will include questions about cracking secret codes, creating bespoke illuminated letters and finding out more about the music preserved within the pages of Alamire's amazing manuscripts.

The pack has been created by the National Centre for Early Music with funding from the East Riding of Yorkshire Council.
